

A MESSAGE TO MY BRETHREN OF ALL COLOURS, CREEDS AND NATIONS

As soon as you are born, you're given a name, a religion and a political ideology (the parents' ideology in most cases).

You spend the rest of your life defending a fictional identity that you never chose. You are an owned asset to that which governs you. You are a strawman.

We stand at the precipice of great change with great distraction. We are so utterly terrified and horrified by what is happening in our lands and we are being encouraged to pick a side.

I would like to remind you, people of Britain, of your History. Thousands of years of invasion and conquer that has repeated over and over and yet today, as History repeats, you forget all of it and stand there preaching Christianity. Our nation is of christian value and virtue therefore all that is not of that must leave - Well, are you going to pack your own bags too?

This hypocrisy is as vile as the invasion cast upon you. You claim to be christians but none of you practice what you preach. You use it as a shield to protect you from what you don't understand or remember. Who told you you were Christian? What does that even mean?

To pick this path is to pick the darkening age. A state of decay is worse than war! Your books have been altered to provide you with a soft version of the real story so you're easier to control as you operate through low consciousness you are not able to understand the true path of righteousness therefore you've been given the kiddie version. A brown jewish king nailed to a cross that paid the divine wager for your sins so you don't have to yet you'll spew Jew hate whilst worshipping or at best pretending to worship a Jew. None of you know or care to learn about who is the real Christ by which you all descend. You just do as you're told. Follow an order presented to you, preached to you and taught in your schools without ever questioning its true value, meaning or worth.

William Blake once wrote the poem, 'The divine image' - I suggest that those of you that are on the far left or far right of life right now give that a read. The path is narrow and it requires the heart of a lion, not the fractured heart of a political warrior or the broken heart of an ancestor but one that is able to unite all people together as one. An objective that will repulse many and frighten most. But let it be known, it is the only way

Blake also wrote 'Jerusalem The Emanation of The Giant Albion', where he writes 'The emanation of the giant Albion', a complex piece of masterful literature that was misunderstood by most and criticised for being too baffling, harrowing and incomprehensible.

With Jerusalem divided into four chapters, much like the divided four corners of the world, Blake goes in hard, on first of all on the public, the meek and mild taking the first punch but what do they know for they are in a deep slumber unable to awaken.

Then he heads straight on over to the Jews, suggesting that they have defiled the pure true form of what the Albion, the Universal human represents, suggesting that they have impacted the human form with sin and retribution and through guilt and persecution have blinkered them into a false sense of reality and dare they say otherwise they will be punished back into submission

Then he moves over to the Deists, those that have turned their backs on divinity to follow a code of scientific conduct to rationalise God where instead of reaping spiritual reward, they glory Gods that honour them with material premium. A false system of backwards principle.

Ah but best he then heads for the Christians. The group that received the hardest bashing. Here, he suggests that this group of people are the most corrupt for distorting their religious moral compass, turning a christed Albion of love and forgiveness into one of sin and retribution (thanks to the influence of the Jews - His words not mine before you cast me). That the God they pray to is not the God that serves the kingdom of the most high and instead they have rejected brotherly love within their 'brotherhood establishments' and rather infiltrated them with ego, selfishness, greed, pride and will to power

He was however very hopeful that there would come a time, whereafter such an apocalypse of confusion and catastrophe that the nations would rise again and the 'lost tribes' would be once again renewed, purified and resurrected into their divine form (born again of water and spirit) but not before man finds his own identity and seeks imagination by which he can look further and higher from the bland worldly visions set upon them by the lowest form of oppressive influence

The reason I bring this up is because, in England, or Britain, we have all the necessary tools and seeds planted for us to question the deeper meanings, though no one really pays enough attention.

Remember your history? Remember who you are? The elite follow nature, not the contrived rules of men designed to subjugate the masses. While the world is bound by artificial constraints, the few who rise to power recognize that true authority lies in understanding and harnessing the laws of nature—the unspoken forces that govern strength, survival, and dominance. Man-made rules are but chains for the weak; the elite are governed by the eternal principles of ambition and hierarchy, where only the strongest ascend.

For those of you that didn't pay attention while you were having your twisted books read to you via psalms and verses that suited a narrative, I remind you who was King David, slayer of the giants and ancestor of the bloodline that Christ belonged to can be traced through European nobility.

There is a reason that Europe is being invaded. It has fallen. For thousands of years, we have lived under the rule of GOD, KING, LAND. This has always been the noble way. We are all brothers and cousins of 5 lines of human Gods that walked and ruled this earth in the image of God and his pantheon of God streams to empower the ruler, the kingdom and the people. We were scattered. We were destined to rebuild Kingdoms and swear oaths of allegiance to kings assigned to rebuild the Giant divine Albion but those rules got infiltrated by malefic forces that have for a thousand years cursed us, lied to us and played us under a game we now defend and protect. A monopoly. It is Godless. We have become Godless people that are therefore fallen.

Polybius wrote exactly what caused it. 2200 yrs ago, Read carefully:

"In our times, Greece as a whole is experiencing a lack of children and, more generally, a decrease in population. Because of this, cities have become deserted and there is a lack of productivity, even though we do not suffer from constant wars or epidemics. So if someone advised that we send priests to the gods to ask them what we should say or do to become more numerous and better inhabit our cities, he would not seem foolish, since the cause is obvious and the solution lies in our own hands.

People have turned to arrogance, greed, and laziness, and they neither want to marry, nor, if they do marry, to raise their children. Instead, they have only one or two children with difficulty, just to leave them wealth and raise them in luxury.

This evil grew rapidly, and we did not notice. For when there are only one or two children, and one is lost to war and the other to illness, it is obvious that the cities will inevitably become deserted, just as a beehive weakens little by little, so too do cities that lack population become unable to survive."

Lesser minds cannot bear the crushing clarity of what is. Instead, they are sustained by comforting illusions, sacred myths, and crafted beliefs, an intricate tapestry of falsehoods woven to preserve their fragile faith and fleeting peace. These comforting delusions exist not for their benefit, but for the preservation of the social order, allowing them to function within the boundaries of their limited understanding. It is a mercy, of sorts, to shield them from truths they are too weak to comprehend, for such knowledge would shatter the fragile peace they cling to. The truth, however, is reserved for those few who have the capacity to embrace it, those who see beyond the veil of illusion, unburdened by the petty constraints of the masses

I say this to you because you have forgotten your way, Forgotten who you are, what you stand for and instead of seeking truth you stay in comfort, in the homes you think you own but don't, clicking for comforts that arrive the next day to soothe your vanity while your families are fractured and your lands are on fire. Yet you preach christianity, you will never go to church to pray. You are distracted with your 9-5 and your statutory calendar obligations to care enough to seek the truth when it has been right under your noses all along

I remind you people of Britain, that before the Saxon man came along, you were heathen. You were not of Christ or Christian, you followed a path that aligned with nature and a calendar that didn't have days and weeks but rather seasons. You were then invaded and stand as the men you are today preaching a religion that was never yours in the first place. The path was yours. The divine image was yours but it got severely distorted and fractured and now on a path that is heading towards hell you stand and defend it.

Heaven has walls, a gate, and strict entry.

Hell has open borders. This is where we're at!

I remind you also, brethren that as our people settled and found balance and unity, Saxons and Vikings together in shared lands, another invader came. One that had a plan in mind to once and for all RESTORE BRITAIN under 'KING AND CROWN'. That conqueror had a strategic plan. A thorough mission in mind and he came and cleared the entire nation in 2 generations to seat himself as conqueror and King. He placed himself as King of England and received his crown at Westminster Abbey on December 25, 1066. He built castles, took land from English lords and subjects (you) , and gave it to his Norman followers. He ordered a massive survey of wealth and land in England in 1086 otherwise known as 'THE DOOMSDAY BOOK'. The exact moment that all land in England became the property of the crown. Prior to this, let it be known that there were Kings, Alfred the Great and other Anglo-Saxon Lords, that owned their land outright (Allodial title) and also allowed their peasants to also own land, known as 'Land ownership and the Ceorls' - TRUE OWNERSHIP.

Yes, 1066 was the total wiping of Anglo-Viking wealth and the creation of the courts and crown to usher in the biggest land grab and the 1066 LAND MONOPOLY exists to this day. Do you think you own your home, land, car, business? NO YOU DO NOT. You are on a credit contract of the King and Crown. YOU OWN NOTHING and you are a BOLD CAPITAL IDENTITY OF A CORPORATION that exists to use you as a pawn in its game. A game that was funded by Jewish old money to put in place a ruling elite that created a system to use you to empower it

Why am I telling you this? Yesterday (14.08.2026) Benjamin Netanyahu declared, 2 days following a total solar eclipse, that England is not under a monarchy. It is the Islamic Republic of Britain. He isn't wrong. Our land has no King for the King is a traitor. Remember I tell you that the elite follow nature. Whenever there is a solar eclipse, it is always to do with the King. The King is the human form of the solar god. The ruler of this realm. When a land and people do not have a King that has a God, the land becomes sick, the people become sick and decay persists. Our sun is sick, our skies are sick, our water is sick, our earth is sick.

GREAT BRITAIN - THIS IS WHERE YOU STAND

Now, what is the way out of this? Is it to defeat and behead your brown cousins that have been ushered in, bought and paid for by yet more jewish shekel? Is it to pray to a God you don't remember or have real faith in to get you out of this less than divine mess? Is it to bury your head in the sand and not question it because you have bills to pay and deliveroo to order? Is it to complain daily on social media whilst hoping your brothers and sisters will do the strong arming for you and sweep away the dirt for you?

Again, go back to the beginning and read the poem 'THE DIVINE IMAGE', where we are ALL asked to forget these manmade religions and conflicts and seek the narrow path and with hearts of lions, rise up and claim back ALL our nations. English men, this starts with YOU! - To take the sword out of the stone requires this of all of you:

And all must love the human form,
In heathen, Turk, or Jew;
Where Mercy, Love, and Pity dwell
There God is dwelling too.

The answer is to seek God again not through religion but through divine order and mercy. Not through what we have been taught that is false or what we have paid for that is not even really ours.

1066 - the start of the thousand years of hell. As it was said in revelation, we are almost at the end but the final battle is upon us and it will only be won if we all unite. So if you are far left or far right, picking a side of nationalist pride proclaiming white supremacy while the other side wish to take down the white man, you are both losers. While everyone wants to take down the jew for all the trickery and deceit, hypocrisy and victimhood they have narcissistically claimed you are both losers. While the brown man invades raping our girls and taking our state, you are both losers.

NOONE right now owns anything. Britain is lawless. Kingless. Godless. You could see this as horror. A collapse of the constitution would bring about utter chaos and civil unrest. There would be no banking, no system, no structure. Absolute madness! - OR, could it be an opportunity to seek freedom from the chains of evil that bound us for so long. Should we own anything? If so, how accordingly? Who decides? There could be new found freedom in this collapse, but how will you use that?

The only way to do so is to remember who you are. Seek the divine order and divine image. Stand united in the face of peril and cast aside your virtue signalling ways and your ego, entitlement, classist supremacy or unworthiness whichever side you stand on and instead stand united as one people, with the heart of a lion full of love, pride and mercy.

Not many will understand this as it will require you to let go of all your false beliefs, identities, attachments and comforts and in order to do that one must go within with eyes open enough to dare to look at one's own inadequacies and lies and be brave enough to see them for what they are because you cannot cast out what you cannot see.

Only when man can stand vulnerable, open and exposed in front of all his other fellow men and reside there empty of belief can he say 'I will claim back what is mine and we will do this together'.

Only when man can set aside his ego and his supreme entitlement can he see he is no better than anyone else and therefore encourage another to see the same.

So here we are, in this moment, to either sweep away the mess and start again where 'We will own nothing but we will be happy' or, we will be owned like never before and forget the very feeling of what happiness ever was

The choice is yours - We are ALL complicit to the cause of this mess and we must ALL bear the consequence of cleansing it. We are one people. We are many nations. We all share one heart. The lesson is to unlock it so that we may finally be free
